We Work with You

One contract. One Project Manager. One way of doing business. Whether you are up-sizing, down-sizing or reducing your Carbon Footprint Cameron Barclay can help you. Cameron Barclay takes the time to understand your business and your requirements. We then meet with landlords, planners and the HSE so that we can see the project holistically but with your interests at heart.

We manage all of the contractors on and off-site so that everything goes right first time; and we give you a single point of contact so that you can spend more time dealing with your business and less time worrying.

"The Cameron Barclay team are enjoyable to work with; they have a great attitude and they deliver on their promises. Their on-site management team and office support offers a winning combination.

I will continue to use Cameron Barclay, because I know they won't let me down."
